

Announcement on the Course on Research Methodology

Offered by Graduate School

Graduate School offers the course on research methodology for PhD and master students in the first semester of year 2020 (starting at July, 2020). Those interested in the course please find more information below. Both international and Thai students are welcome to register in the course.

Course title: 950-500 research methodology

Credit: 1 credit, the course consists of 1 module (see below).

Student: Both international and Thai student are welcome to register to the course. Students from all fields of study (natural sciences, biological sciences, social sciences etc.) could register because course modules cover a wide range of methodology of various fields. Students can select the modules of their interest.

Language: course offered in English

Prerequisite course: No

Course coordinator: Assoc. Prof Sanguan Lerkiatbundit (Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, Graduate School)

Office phone& E-mail: 6989, 8897, sanguan.l@psu.ac.th

Modules:

Module	Credit (s)	Module coordinator
Module 1 : Research as Scientific Approach	1(1-0-2)	Assoc. Prof Sanguan Lerkiatbundit

Please find more information on the modules from the following pages. For further information, please contact Assoc. Prof.Sanguan Lerkiatbundit at sanguan.l@psu.ac.th or 6989, or 8897.

FAQ:

- No extra tuition fee will be charged for students taking this course.
- The names of the modules you take will not be appeared in your transcript. However, we try to solve this in the near future.
- Students can register the course for “audit” or “credit”. For those in research only program, please register the course for “audit” (grading is in S or U, satisfied or unsatisfied).